

Rigorous College Prep Track

A Scope & Sequence

This College Prep Track (scope & sequence) through Homeschool Connections is designed for the student who desires a rigorous course load.

This is a course of study that will prepare motivated students, with the guidance of their parents, for life beyond high school. It can be easily adjusted for students joining HomeschoolConnections.com partway through their middle or high school career. Email Maureen Wittmann if you would like assistance at mwittmann@homeschoolconnections.com.

If you would like extensive consulting, HomeschoolConnections.com recommends consulting services with Paola Ciskanik at <https://emmanuelbooks.lpages.co/homeschooling-coach-paola/>.

Note, this scope & sequence is based on:

1. HomeschoolConnections.com's recorded, independent-learning courses through our Unlimited Access program. However, many of these courses are also available as live, interactive courses.
2. A trimester system (three semesters per school year) for a total of 36 to 40 weeks of instruction. The third trimester is shorter than the first two. This leaves room for holiday breaks and vacations.

Dual-Enrollment Courses

HomeschoolConnections.com partners with Franciscan University for dual-enrollment courses. High school juniors and seniors can earn college credit online from Franciscan University through their Fast Trackfa Program. Many of these courses line up with this Rigorous College Prep Track.
