Science

Teacher	Course	Grade Level	Classes	Description
Kathy Dutton	Inspiration, Invention, Innovation	MS	12	Join this engaging, hands-on course and experience science in a fun way. Those who like creativity or are future innovators and inventors are especially welcome!
Inshal Chenet	The Way Things Work Now, Parts One and Two	MS	14 classes in each part, 28 total	Based on the book by David Macaulay, this high-interest course dives into the physics of how everyday objects work — showing us how the technology that seems magical is really man’s engineering working with God’s design.
MacBeth Derham	The Planets	MS	13	In this Astronomy for Middle School course, we will study a different celestial body each class— with the latest information and NASA images — to make learning science engaging and fun!
MacBeth Derham	Mission: Mars! From Myth to Mariner to (Maybe) Manned	MS	13	Join this course and learn all about Mars and why there is a universal fascination with the “red planet”. Is SpaceX founder Elon Musk’s vision of establishing a permanent human presence on Mars realistic? In studying the cosmos beyond Earth, students come to better understand God's creation and the nature of science.

Domenico Ruggiero	Faith in Astronomy	MS	15	This course discusses the practical matters of science that are of interest to us all – namely the effects of space weather on our lives, deep studies of the Earth and Sun, predicting the movement of heavenly bodies, and much more – but we also take a Catholic look on scientific topics so we know how to intellectually respond to the common criticisms put forth by a secular society.
MacBeth Derham	To the Moon: Apollo Missions and the Future	MS	13	It's been over 50 years since the first moon landing. Join this course to learn Apollo history and explore future space possibilities within the physics of gravity and motion in space. Join this fabulous integrated science course with high-interest details and get excited about science!
MacBeth Derham	The Tick (and Lyme disease)	MS	4	Join us for The Tick. No, not the comic book character, but the scourge and bane of hikers, landscapers, fisherman, and hunters. What makes the tick tick? How can we prevent the spread of disease?
MacBeth Derham	The Cat: Natural History, Artificial Selection, and Anatomy	MS	12	Join us for this fun 6th- to 8th-grade science course exploring our feline friends! Learn about where domestic cats came from, different cats around the world, common and exotic breeds, and some anatomy and genetics.
MacBeth Derham	The Dog: Natural History, Artificial Selection, and Anatomy	MS	12	Join us for this fun 6-8th grade science course exploring our furry friends! Learn where domestic dogs came from, different dogs around the world, different breeds, as well as some anatomy and genetics.

Christine Hamilton	Middle School Life Science, Parts One and Two	MS	12 in each part, 24 total	Life Science is an introductory level course designed to enable students to explore basic biological concepts. MacBeth Derham	Cetaceans: Marine Mammals	MS	12	Join us for this fun 6th- to 8th-grade science course exploring our marine mammal friends! Learn the history, biology, breeding, habitats, and behaviors of whales, dolphins, and porpoises in this science course for all middle school students.
MacBeth Derham	Megafauna! Before, During, and After the Dinosaurs	MS	12	Join us as we explore the BIG creatures that have inhabited the Earth— from giant dragonflies to the fearsome Megalodon to the blue whale. Why do creatures become extinct, and why do some survive? And why are some so big?
MacBeth Derham	Invertebrate Zoology	MS	13	The invertebrates are everywhere! Let's find out more about animals without backbones. We will discuss the features and habits of the major phyla.
MacBeth Derham	The Parasites: Living with Us	MS	12	Welcome to the secret world of parasites, the creatures which live on—and inside—us and our companion animals. In this course, you will take a close look at arthropods, annelids, and the internal parasites which occupy our bodies, sometimes without us even noticing. And, you'll find the answer to the big question: What's in it for us?
Kris Correira	Cell Biology with Lab	MS	12	The cell is quite the place! From its membrane to its organelles to DNA, it has fascinating structures. And then there are its amazing functions, from photosynthesis and respiration to cell division and protein synthesis.

Christine Hamilton	Grossology	MS	8		Want to get your middle school student excited about science? Grossology is here to save the day! What is earwax? Do you think burping is hilarious? Would you get a giggle out of creating goopy slime? A heap of gross is a huge amount of fun! Get 8 weeks of ooey, gooey, slimy, and chunky entertainment – all in the name of science!
Christine Hamilton	Bug Camp (Entomology)	MS	8		A fun and lighthearted study of the insect world. We will learn about insect types, habitats, sounds, and some yummy recipes (really!). Pests, workers, artists—the intrepid insects of the world fascinate, annoy, and benefit humankind.
MacBeth Derham	Introduction to Ornithology (The Study of Birds)	MS	13		The sparrows of the air, the penguins of the sea, the ostriches of the arid plains of Africa, and many dinosaurs all have something in common: Feathers! Diversity is the word when it comes to our avian friends. Join this course as we admire colorful macaws, ravenous raptors, hovering hummingbirds, and the rest of the wondrous world of birds.
MacBeth Derham	Vertebrate Biology	MS	13		When you think of animals, you likely think of vertebrates. From jawless fish to adaptable humans, we vertebrates occupy most of the ecological niches on the planet. Sign up for this course and find out what makes vertebrates resilient in the fight for survival on Earth.
MacBeth Derham	Pinnipeds, Polar Bears, and Playful Otters	MS	12		You see them in zoos and aquariums, now learn more about the animals who live on the edge of the oceans. Unlike terrestrial mammals, and unlike

Kris Correira	Kingdom Animalia	MS	12	cetaceans who spend their whole lives in the seas, these three groups are adapted to life on the edge of the water, an amphibious existence both fruitful and dangerous. Join for a fun, deep dive into science! This course is an introduction to classification of the animal kingdom traced through its evolutionary development. The course is based on the Shape of Life and Eyewitness video and provided eBook.
Kris Correira	Come to Your Senses: The Science Behind Your Five Senses	MS	6	Learn the anatomy and physiology of our senses, with a deeper look in this high-interest science course through interesting videos and engaging in labs that align with Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) for middle school life science.
MacBeth Derham	Water: The Best Molecule	MS	4	Dive into Water this summer! Water is not just a refreshing way to cool off, it's the molecule which moves mountains, quenches thirst, dissolves chemicals, and behaves in weird ways. This course includes 4 quick lectures and simple at-home labs demonstrating the wonders of water.
MacBeth Derham	Introduction to Botany	MS	13	Have a green thumb? Love to garden? Want to know more about the biology of plants? Join us for a 12-week tour of the usually lovely—sometimes lethal!—world of plants.
Kris Correira	On Time: The Science and History of Marking Time	MS	6	Take a look at seasons, the earth's rotation, the moon's phases, and more! If you want a course that blends history, geography, and religion in a way that makes science fun, this middle school course is for you!
MacBeth Derham	Geology for Middle School	MS	13	Learn all about geology, including what a geologist does, the rock cycle, plate tectonics, sediments, crystals, mines, rocks, volcanoes, quakes, and more. In this Middle School Science course, you will get excited about Earth Science as it relates to you and the world.

Erin M. Brown	Health, Fitness, and Wellness	MS	6	In this introductory health and wellness course, you'll learn about how to be happy and healthy in mind, body, and spirit — with discussions, readings, journaling for health, and more!
Kathy Dutton	Physical Science, Parts One, Two and Three	MS	13 classes in Part One; 18 classes in Part Two; 13 classes in Part Three	This is a 'flipped' class. Students are required to watch the Lecture Video before the Recorded Class. The Recorded Class is a discussion (question and answer) format based on the lecture. Students are expected to answer all questions before I discuss the correct answer. We will be studying the matter and forces that God used to create our universe.
